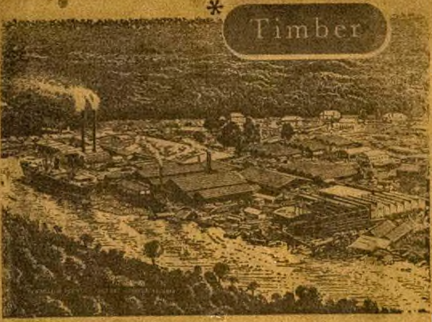
FACETS OF ENTERPRISE



"Timber in the shipping machine"

Under Government licence and long-term forestry regeneration schemes, 150,000 tons of logs pass yearly through The United Africa Company's sawmill and plywood plant at Sapele, or are loaded there direct into the waiting ships. This enterprise creates employment for 8,000 persons, and yields some £440,000 annually in revenue to the Native Administration and Central Government. At Samreboi in the Gold Coast, centre of an 800 square mile concession, another sawmill is nearing completion. To serve it 140 miles of new roads and nearly a mile of bridges are being constructed.

So, through her timber, West Africa gains not only in exportable produce and material for her own building programme, but also in revenue and extensive opening-up of the country.

AMERICAN EXPERT TO IMPROVE NIGERIAN GUINEA CORN

At the request of the Nigerian Government, Dr. J. O. Webster of the Economic Cooperation Administration is directing the development of an improved stock of guinea corn in this country by crossing American strains with Nigerian varitie.

Dr. and Mrs. Webster and their 4-year old son, Dean, who visited the American Consulate General in Lagos last week-end. They flew down from Ibadan where Dr. Webster has been conferring with Agricultural Officers and delivering a series of special lectures at the University College.

Dr. Webster, a plant-breeding specialist, hopes to produce in Nigeria a guinea corn variety improved along lines most desired by Nigerians and yet maintaining the qualities essential to the eating habits of the people.

Since his arrival in April with 170 varieties of American sorghum, the United States counterpart of guinea corn, Dr. Webster has conducted special research at the Agricultural Station in Samaru. He brought with him, in addition to the 170 varieties, the Uniform United States Nursery of 35 entries, varieties of the most recent sorghum developments in North America.

RELAXATION OF CURRENCY RESTRICTIONS TO TRAVELLERS

Two notices have recently appeared in the Nigerian Gazette announcing concessions in the amount of currency available to travellers. The first concerns tourist travel and the concession made allows the accumulation and use in the currents year of the unused portion of the Tourist Travel Allowance for the previous two years together with the allowance for the current year.

Thus a traveller from Nigeria would in the travel year commencing 1st May 1951, be able to draw as a maximum £100 plus £100 plus £50—£250 for adults and £70 plus £70 plus £70—£175 for children, assuming in either case that no allowance had been drawn for the travel years ending 30th April, 1950, and 1951. This concession will not be made available to Nigerian residents by Banks in the United Kingdom and travellers wishing to take advantage of it are adzised to make the necessary arrangements with a Bank in Nigeria before their departure.

The other concession announced raise the amount of sterling notes which a traveller may bring into Nigeria and the amount of sterling or West African Currency Board notes which a traveller may take out of Nigeria when proceeding to a destination outside the British West African territories, from £5 to £10.
