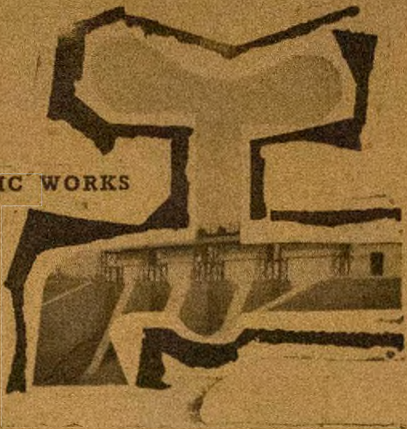
PUBLIC WORKS



The Government of Western Nigeria regard the improvement of roads as vital in the economy development of the Region. This is shown by the £4 million Road Development Scheme now being pursued. It is estimated that work amounting to over £2 million will have been accomplished by the end of the financial year.

It is now possible to reach all Provincial Headquarters and the great majority of Divisional Headquarters on tarred roads.

Water supply schemes are pursued vigorously to provide good water for the people both in the urban and rural areas. A total of £4½ million was available for Urban Water Supplies and £450,000 for Rural Water Supplies. Amongst these are the supplies for Ishan, Auchi-Jattu, Agbor, Iperu-Shagamu, Ijebu-Igbo, Ikare, Iwo, Oshogbo-Ede, Ilesha, Effon-Alaye, Oyo, Owo, Ado-Ekiti and extensions to Ibadan and Abeokuta.

The Department has also been responsible for an extensive building programme including Parliament Buildings and the many other new buildings at Regional Headquarters.

Barklays Bank Embarks On Africanisation Scheme

A new training scheme has been initiated by Barclays Bank for their African staff in Nigeria and Cameroons.

The main objective of the scheme is to give Africans employed by the bank a thorough background in the theories and practice of banking to make them fit for executive posts. This AFRICANISATION Scheme will provide up to two years' intensive practical training in the United Kingdom for selected staff who fulfil the following requirements:

1. At least two years' service with the Bank in Nigeria.
2. Completely satisfactory reports throughout service with the Bank, including reports from the Banks Training Centre in Lagos if applicable.
3. A minimum of two compulsory subjects passed at one sitting, in Part I of the Banking Diploma examination of the Institute of Bankers.
4. Under 30 years of age.

During the period of attachment to one of the United Kingdom Branches of the Bank, trainees will be required to perform clerical work, and by studying in their spare time will be expected to complete all the obligatory subjects of Parts I and II of the Institute of Bankers examinations within the period of two years. Trainees may also be expected to attend courses of training in the United Kingdom. The training period may be terminated if reports on a trainee's work and conduct are unsatisfactory, or if insufficient progress is made with the Institute of Bankers examinations.

The cost of return air passages to the United Kingdom at tourist rate will be paid by the Bank and accommodation with full board will be provided for the trainees in the United Kingdom at the Bank's expense. Travelling expenses to and from the branch at which the trainee is employed will also be paid by the Bank. Trainees will be paid their Nigerian emoluments during the period of training and those stationed in London will also receive a London allowance at the rate of £65 per annum. A kit allowance of £50 will be payable to each trainee on arrival in the United Kingdom.

Those who complete Part II of the Institute of Bankers examinations will be placed on a special list and will be considered for promotion in preference to others.

Barclays Bank is the first Banking House in the Federation of Nigeria to evolve a comprehensive training policy for Africans to enable them work side by side with their English staff in the United Kingdom Offices.
