Look Into Ex-servicemen Grcevances

It is high time the Government should look seriously into the matter of our ex-servicemen and give helping hands to those looking for help.

How does it look like to see the ex-servicemen of an Independent Nigeria sleeping in markets, seaside, along the road etc ?

We should be grateful to them. Why ? some of them purposely left their studies to join the force, some got lost, entirely died, some left half handed and legged, while some left his business just to fight for their country. But for the mercy of God, and for their being brave so as to join the force, we might not have been known and called. "The Independent Nigeria"

For instance, a person like Prince J. A. Wusu (D.MECH). is an ex-serviceman and a full flech egineer for that matter, yet left alone jobless. Let us catch at the shadow and lose the substance itself. Some exservice men are begging for money in the streets all about and four or five of them along Marina. Let us suppose that some of them have got issues before they went to war and after wards, their children came to see their fathers one handed and half legged, how would it be ? whereas they helped the country and not to save their people alone.

Please, let the Authority concern take timely Action in helping them as much as they can.

Thomas Ademola Scott, "WATERLOO" Lagos.
