Lagos Town Council
Nightsoil Conservancy Service

1. For some time now there have been widespread complaints about the Council's Nightsoil Conservancy Service, which is being done by contract as far back as 1954. Pails in the premises serviced by the Council are supposed to be cleared every night. The Council's Contractors, however, fail to clear these pails every night. In fact there are premises where the pails are not cleared for many days together. This is a great inconvenience to the occupiers of such premises and a danger to public health.

2. Side by side with the Council's service exists a large practice in conservancy by a number of private bodies and individuals of varying efficiency. Investigation has revealed that the men employed by the Council's Contractors indulge in private practice to an extent that has seriously undermined the efficiency of the Council's service and has been the cause of several people leaving that service to go to these unauthorised private Nightsoilmen.

3. Under the Lagos Local Government Law of 1953, the Lagos Town Council is responsible for the clearing and disposal of nightsoil from all premises in the Municipality that have no septic tank installation. Council has therefore approved the introduction by October 1st 1957, of a new scheme by which all premises in the Town shall be serviced by the Council's Countractors. To start with, the scheme will be limited to all premises in Lagos Island and Ikoyi as well as to those premises already being serviced on the Mainland by the Council. It is proposed that the service will be extended to the remaining premises in the Municipality at no distant date,

4. The new scheme will be much bigger than the one Council now operates. But a survey of all premises in the Municipality has been made by the Town Engineer and details of the extra staff, transport, and cost to cope with the expanded service have been carefully worked out.

5. The existing scheme covers approxmately 2, 540 pails and costs Council 21/5d per pail per month of daily service, while the Council has hitherto charged only 7/6d per pail. This means that the service has hitherto been subsidised from the rates to the tune of approximately 14/- per pail. The new scheme to cover the whole Munisipality will involve the servicing of about 16,500 pails. Council will charge 17/6d per pail per month of daily service. This is the amount below which Council cannot go without having to raise the rates.

6. The Council in assuming the responsibility that is already its by law hopes that the public will place public health and efficiency of the service above sentiments and give it the understanding and co-operation it needs to make the new scheme a success.
