Leopards Range In Ojubo

Leopards are a chronic nuisance to the public and among parts of the Ojubo Division, especially in the wet season. Since 1948, apart from serious depredations among game reserves, there are about 15 people, including children, who have been killed and maimed. The first were all children, and died.

In one year and a half, over the same period, hunters have killed 22 leopards and captured 2 cubs. The cubs were skinned, skinned and sent to the London Zoo, but leopard cubs are hard to rear in captivity, and the trophies were also not fit to show.

There is a leopard in Ojubo which has taken to killing since May this year, and it is not a large animal, people have seen it. The Administration helps the public to protect itself by issuing leopard hunters with guns, cartridges, and with suitable clothing, and by providing them with materials for traps in this case, however, as the, such efforts have not been successful. Any game hunter who cares to try, and help would be most welcome. There is a price of leopards heads £10 in the game of the Division, when they are skinned, £5 otherwise.
