French Woman and Five Men Motoring Through Desert

AMSTERDAM—Fifty-two-year-old Mrs. Alexandra is 1918, wife of a well-to-do Dutch merchant, started motoring via Spain and over mountains from Amsterdam to a small hotel, over Europe and Africa to Cape Town. She has driven it many times before, but this time she is not alone. Her companions are five men—a Dutch journalist, a Belgian engineer, a Swiss photographer, a Dutch engineer and a Belgian engineer. They left Amsterdam on October 1 and after passing through Paris, Lyon, Marseilles, Nice, Monte Carlo, Barcelona, Madrid, Gibraltar, Tangier, Casablanca, Rabat, Fez, Oran, Algiers, Tunis, Tripoli, Benghazi, Cairo, Khartoum, Juba, Nairobi, Kampala, Kigali, Bukavu, Elisabethville, Ndola, Salisbury, Bulawayo, Johannesburg, Pretoria, Durban, Port Elizabeth, Cape Town, Johannesburg, Kimberley, Bloemfontein
