THE UNITED AFRICA COMPANY LIMITED

Recording some of the many families who have found interesting, varied and worthwhile careers with the U.A.C.

On one of his trips up-river over 50 years ago, Mr. Gunn, then Agent of the Royal Niger Company, engaged as his steward a farmer's son and that is how the Tawari family began their long association with the Company. Gunn Tawari Akele was later apprenticed as an engineer. He made good progress, gained promotion and served with distinction as Chief Engineer in a number of river boats. Gunn Tawari Akele was one of the first Nigerians to be presented with a Gold Watch. Three sons, a grandson, a brother and two nephews also took up careers with the Company, and so far the family can boast of 177 years' service. This proud record gives the Company great satisfaction.

Introduction: By The Minister of Social Services

The Syllabus for Infants' Schools has been revised to improve the standards of instruction concurrently with the introduction of free primary education in Lagos. The object of the new Syllabus is to help teachers to guide school children from the very begining of their careers, not only in the basic elements of formal instruction, but also in critical appreciation and awareness of life in all its aspects.

2. Children should enjoy learning, and they can do so only if their interests are aroused and maintained. To many children in the past, learning has been a dull drudgery, solely because their latent abilities have been left to wither away in the arid atmosphere of repetitive exercises in rote. Nigeria needs trained people, who can think for themselves, among whom the thirst for knowledge will never be quenched.

3. This syllabus, which has been revised with great care and with particular regard to its application to the thousands of young pupils now entering our schools, will, it is hoped, start a new generation on the right lines. It will be used for a trial period of two years and finally accepted if it is found to be satisfactory in practice.

4. I am grateful to the Syllabus Committee and Sub-Committees for their careful and thoughtful work in preparing this Syllabus and I wish every success to all those for whom it has been prepared.

Hon. Aja Nwachuku
Minister of Social Services.
