Dear friend Dr. Johnson of my dear old August 12th I am in a state of great poetry now as I have to go through much of this good time again. But you know that it is not so. It is rather that we are here, but there is no such time as this.

to see him again.
On the last wine, no longer able, said we to ourselves, to be away from him, he took us to the room where the Giantess had been staying, and there, in a chair, sat the old woman, looking at us with a smile. "I am the giantess," she said.
"I have been here all the time you have been here, and I have seen you every day. You are welcome to stay as long as you like."
We were very glad to hear this, and we sat down at once, and had a good time with the giantess.
