Dear Sir,

I observed in your issue for the 13th instant, page 7, in Olusakin's Column reporting the Divorce Suit against Barrister "Obafemi versus Obafemi," that I am referred to as "a popular jester and comedian;" which is not in any way a compliment; and as such, I take objection to that.

I here state for your immediate correction that I am not a jester and comedian; and that I had since 1925 established and registered as a Commission Agent here and elsewhere carrying on that line of business.

Yours faithfully,

W. MENDES-COLE.

A CORRECTION.

In our issue of the 20th instant, under "Olusakin's Column" Mr. W. Mends-Cole was referred to as "a popular jester and comedian" the former term viz—"jester" being taken objection to by Mr. Cole: our Correspondent means no harm by this as a matter of fact, Mr. Cole's cheerful spirit has often helped to drive away the "blues" from many an audience as a gifted comedian. We regret the insertion of the term and unreservedly withdraw it.

It gives us pleasure to say that Mr. Cole has been registered Commission Agent since 1905 until now.

Obituary.

ALFA GBADAMSI DABIRI.

The death took place at his residence, 31, Talbot Street, Lagos, on Friday evening, the 26th October, 1928, of Alfa Gbadamosi Dabiri, a prominent Native Doctor.

The deceased was taken ill for some days, when he was attended by Dr. J. Akhade Cantin.

The Late Alfa Dabiri was a very quiet man, kind, popular and unassuming to everybody who came in contact with him.

His remains were removed to the Mohammedan Cemetery at Oke-sapa Street, for interment, on the following day at 4 p.m., accompanied by many sorrowful friends and relatives.

To his wives Barikisu and Awero, to his children Awanatu, Adikatu, Lawal Dabiri, Bello Dabiri and to his twin sister Kehinde Dabiri (popularly known as Iya Onimoso) and the rest of the family our sincere condolence. "E in inawo ile omọ a se be fun nyin, ehin baba a dara.

OPEN LETTERS—PERIINET AND IMPERIINET.

To Mr. Henry Theodore Burton,
Lauderdale Mansions, Maida Vale, London.

Sir,—I agree with the Marylebone Magistrate, Mr. Hay Halkett, that you have so far got rid of your wife very cheaply for £127. Very dully, too, I think. When you were out of a job, it was agreed you should go home to your mother and your wife should emigrate to Canada to earn her own living, you paying £127 for her passage and outfit. For fifteen months she maintained herself. When ill-health drove her home again, you declined to assist her, although your mother had died and left you £60,000. Probably you will not maintain that callous attitude for long. As the Magistrate reminded you, "the moment your wife makes herself chargeable to the Guardians, a serious position will arise." He means for you.
JOHN BLUNT.

To the Rev. P. Y. Knight,
Kyhope, near Sucoerand.

Rev. Sir,—Declaring that silk stockings on arthritic legs were a menace to the morals of Kyhope, you are prepared to have brought the legs from the local dealer who displayed them and to have instructed him to burn them for you. What a naughty mind you must have!

JOHN BLUNT.
